Piles

Can't Be Cured From the Outside.
External treatments seldom cure Piles.

Nor do surgical operations.
The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.
To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through the stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonard, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Schintz Bros. and drug stores everywhere, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer. adv.

YOUTHS SPEARED FISH AND GET IN CLUTCHES OF LAW

Game Wardens and Fish Protective Society are Working Together

Four young men were taken into custody Thursday by I. B. Boomer, Oshkosh, Wisconsin, conservation warden, charged with spearing fish in Little Butte des Morts. Boomer it is said, released the boys after warning them that if caught again they would be taken into court. They were released. It was reported there, because of their tender ages.

The Outagamie County Fish and Game Protective association through its officers, is taking a hand in the effort to prevent spearing of fish in the Fox and Wolf rivers. It is understood that a number of wardens have been stationed along both rivers to prevent taking of fish from the river.

According to reports here a large number of pike and pickerel are being caught at Winneconne and other places in Winnebago county by fishermen. They are using minnows for bait. Fishing is not permitted in this county until May 1, it is reported. A large number of fish were killed in Lakes Winneconne and Poygan during the winter because ice blocked the bayous into which the fish had gone for refuge. They were smoothed because of the lack of oxygen.

INSURE PRIVACY FOR SANATORIUM PATIENTS

By United Press Leased Wire Madison — Records of the condition of patients in the state sanatorium and other state institutions are not open to the public, and may not be divulged without the permission of the patient, the attorney general's department declared in an opinion Thursday.

"Except as provided otherwise, public records are open to inspection," the state law declares. The opinion held, however, that the relation between patient and physician was so confidential that no public mention could be made without the patient's permission. The opinion was given to M. J. Tappins of the state board of control.

Will Visit Old Home
Fadio Freije, 786 Appleton st., who plans to visit his old home in Syria the coming summer, expects to leave here the latter part of May or early in June. He has been a resident of Appleton for nearly 30 years and during the greater part of that time has been engaged in the drygoods business. His parents both are dead, but he has a brother still residing near the old home.

County Nurse Carrying Partial Burden For City

Appleton is without a city nurse since the Red Cross gave up this activity, but the demand for her services still exists.

This is evident from the number of calls that are received in the office of Miss Bertha Schultz, county nurse, from people living within Appleton city limits. Her work in the rural districts more than occupies her time, but the less fortunate families in the city seem to have no other place to obtain care of the sick and appeal to Miss Schultz.

The county nurse tries to find some way of affording relief despite the fact that her work is supposed to be wholly in the rural localities outside of Appleton. She has assumed the extra burden in urgent cases rather than let the patient go uncared for and has perhaps half a dozen homes in the city where she now has sick cases.

Sometimes half a dozen calls will be received at her office in a day. Even the freedom of her evenings is disturbed by people here who cannot find her during the day, yet need her help.

With conditions among the working people less favorable this winter than in normal times, it is said that there has been more of a demand for free nursing service than ever and that a municipal nurse would find a full program awaiting her if one were engaged here.

INVITE C. OF C. TO AID CUTOVER LAND MOVEMENT

Appleton Chamber of Commerce is asked to send representatives to a conference of the Cutover Land reclamation association, which is to open at 9 o'clock next Tuesday morning in Hotel Pfister, Milwaukee.

Delegates are expected from Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota and other states in the northwest. The aim of the gathering is to obtain government aid for settlers on cutover lands in the Great Lakes region.

Invitations have been sent to governors and legislators of various states, to commercial associations, United States department of agriculture, mayors, county agents, rural and dairying leaders, businessmen, farmers and others.

FEW TRAMPS ARE SEEN IN APPLETON THIS YEAR

While neighboring cities report a large number of tramps very few visit Appleton. At Appleton Junction where they usually congregate it is only occasionally that one is seen and all of them appear to have money. No house to house canvass for food has been made for some time. Prior to March these "tourists" were headed south in large numbers.

CLEAN UP JONES PARK TO BE READY FOR SPRING

John Hoerning, caretaker of Jones park has been busy for some time cleaning up the debris of the recent sleet storm. The branches of many trees were broken by the weight of the ice and these Mr. Hoerning has piled in the old cement wading pool with the intention of burning them. He made an attempt to do this several days ago with the aid of kerosene, but the wood was too green to ignite. Most of the trees damaged by the storm have been given surgical treatment. The ice of the skating rink is gradually disappearing and so far there has been very little trouble from backwater.

CARLOAD OF BUILDING MATERIAL GOES ASTRAY

The work of laying the terrazzo floors in the new Insurance building of the Aid Association for Lutherans has been delayed for more than a week because a carload of marble chips from Vermont failed to reach here. The car now has been located after being traced to a distant part of the country. The car will reach its destination within the next few days, whereupon work upon the floors will be commenced. Two crews will be employed.

RED CROSS NEEDS MORE VOLUNTEERS TO HELP IN WORK

Hundreds of Garments are Needed for Children in Famine Areas

Outagamie County Red Cross chapter is emphasizing the continued need for volunteer workers and has sent out a call for men and women to aid in the work now being done.

During the last six months the Outagamie County chapter has shipped 48 layettes and 470 children's garments to Europe and other famine areas. Volunteers throughout the county are asked to aid in sewing and preparing clothing for children in famine stricken areas of Europe. The Red Cross will furnish patterns for children's garments, if volunteers wish to do this sewing.

National headquarters of Red Cross has sweaters without sleeves which cannot be used in hospitals as it is required that soldiers wear sweaters with sleeves. Volunteers are asked to ravel some sweaters and to knit sleeves in sleeveless sweaters. Materials will be furnished by the Red Cross.

A class in Braille writing for blind soldiers in hospitals is making rapid progress in learning the system. More Appleton men and women are invited to join the class as there is a great need for reading matter for blind war veterans.

A LESSON TO THE GOVERNOR
A Simon pure politician seldom sees or takes a warning, and yet if Governor Blaine is not entirely blind and wholly heedless of what is happening about him, he has learned in Tuesday's election a lesson which he should not forget. That lesson is this: the people of Wisconsin will not tolerate political judges.
Several months ago upon the death of the circuit judge at Oshkosh Governor Blaine, appointed against violent opposition, a Mr. Hurlbut of Omro as circuit judge. There was no real reason to appoint Mr. Hurlbut excepting that he had been a political chum of the governor. The voters of the Oshkosh circuit registered their sharp disapproval of this political appointment by decisively defeating Mr. Hurlbut at Tuesday's election.
Wisconsin judges have been known as a most humane and democratic set of men. Even in the heat of political campaigns, they have not been charged with subservience to any interest excepting the public interest. The people of Wisconsin will not permit the selection of judges for political purposes. They insist upon placing on the bench talent and not men whose only claim for advancement is their political activity.
The defeat of Mr. Hurlbut at Oshkosh has all the sharper sting to the Blaine organization because the governor on the eve of the election went personally into the district and delivered three public addresses, by means of which it was thought that great advantage would accrue to his candidate for the judicial position. That itself is a sickening spectacle. It becomes more evident every day that Governor Blaine does not know the temper of the people of the state. He should have learned by now that any effort upon his part to tie the judiciary of Wisconsin to his political wagon will meet with emphatic and indignant opposition.
He will experience another lesson in this respect when his indefensible appointment of Crownhart to the supreme court comes up for ratification by the people.

MR. DAVIS ON THE COAL STRIKE
The advice of Secretary of Labor Davis that nobody should pay an increased price for coal ought to be followed strictly by the public. Should any operator or dealer raise the price, a report should be made at once to Mr. Davis. The public must cooperate with public departments if it expects protection.
In the statement issued by the secretary of labor he inferentially blames a few of the bituminous mine operators for the strike or lock-out, or whatever one chooses to call it. These operators refused to abide by the terms of their agreement binding them to conference. However, the situation is a little complicated, he states, as a consequence of the reaction from war-time prosperity.
The ownership and operation of mining properties are subjects in which the public is even more concerned than the producers or workers. The coal supply is one of the principal natural resources. It is a natural resource on which not only the population of the present time must depend, but many generations to come.
It is contrary to American sentiment and policy to turn to federal ownership of these properties as the means of solving the fuel problems. Our national opinion favors individual enterprise.
But the strike impresses forcibly on the business interests and the public the necessity for some form of federal supervision over the fuel supply. The public cannot be subject to whatever ideas the operators or workers, or both, may have. Fuel is one of the three most important and indispensable necessities.
The coal supply and industry are matters that the federal government should now determine to investigate thoroughly. One of the causes of trouble and discontent in mine fields has been lack of complete and authentic information. Many mine owners find their property burdensome. Not only is the labor supply excessive in most districts, but wage and living conditions are in many places unsatisfactory, with the result that radical sentiment is fostered.

There are four parties at interest in the coal strike and in the problem of the mining industry as a whole. These parties are the public, the government, the operators and the workers. The interest of the government is, of course, to see that each of the other three parties receives equitable treatment. The situation warrants the government in going to the bottom of the coal mining industry as a basis for some permanent action. In fact, it demands it.

CLEVELAND'S PUBLIC AUDITORIUM
By its public spirit you know a community. By a community's public spirit you recognize the average of the people's intelligence and progressiveness. Cleveland will open a $6,300,000 public auditorium and exhibition hall on April 15. The auditorium will seat 13,500 persons. For exhibition and tournaments 75,000 square feet of floor space will be available. The building is a public amusement palace. It is designed in the Italian renaissance style. The exterior is faced with granite and limestone, and the interior is finished with marble, tile and decorative plaster.
Every city needs a public auditorium and exhibition hall. But how many have built and maintain this necessity? Except in a few places, convention and amusement halls are private enterprises. Why? Because experience shows that communities as a rule lack the public spirit, and courage to pay the price of building and operating as civic ventures. The $6,300,000 invested by Cleveland is visible evidence of the spirit, intelligence, and progressiveness of the community. The facility will benefit the people and business far more than the millions spent. And the advertising that Cleveland will receive as a great community, and the civic patriotism that will be fostered, are benefits that cannot be measured in dollars.

PLEA FOR SHORTER SERMONS
Lay members of the Episcopal church of St. Louis requested their clergymen to deliver sermons, and the clergymen have agreed, with due complaisance, to experiment for thirty days with religious talks limited to twenty-two minutes each.
To the average man the ordinary sermon seems long, in church of any denomination. The average man appreciates that he needs religion, and that hearing the best counsel should inspire him to new effort, yet he likes to be reminded of his duties as briefly and casually as possible. It is almost like penance for some persons to listen to a sermon of any length, and, no matter how short a sermon may be, they would prefer one shorter.
An exceptionally interesting twenty-two minute sermon may appear to be too brief. Is it at all possible that the laymen will soon be urging the clergymen to deliver lengthy sermons?

Judges Must Know a Lot
Everybody says that lawyers and judges should be very learned. Cases come up every day that test their acquirements to the utmost. Take the Kansas instance over which attorneys and jurists are so keenly engaged. Did the Vinland school board have a right to exclude from the local high school two girl pupils whose skirts did not extend three inches below their knees? That question is being argued desperately and is tangled in a maze of demurrers and other pleadings.
And there's more still. The judge has to settle the profound problems whether the skirts did in fact extend three inches below the knees. This case is on its way to the Supreme Court of Kansas.
Equally deep contentions come before the British judges. A wizened occupant of the King's Bench has just handed down a decision that a college lecturer was rightfully dismissed for stealing a kiss from a miss after school hours. The learned judge took pains to say that his decision should not be taken as a precedent, as most cases are in England, but each deliberation of the sort must be considered on its own merits.
Thus exceedingly small does the legal mill grind. Judges must be monuments of erudition. Never dare to question that—NEW YORK TRIBUNE (Rep.)

King Canute and Modern Wives
We always associate King Canute's name with the meaning of the tide, which on meaning and continued to advance, despite the severity of his royal scepter about 960 years ago. He was strongly in favor of the single-headed home. And so it is that one of his statues comes in to plague the husband of the modern Englishwoman.
This ancient law goes pretty close to the Mohammedan theory that women—wives at least—have no souls and no moral responsibility when their husbands are standing round looking at them. It provides that any married woman who commits a crime in her husband's presence shall be held to have been coerced into committing it, and that all the punishment shall fall on the husband. It is still in effect in England. In a betting swindle case, the learned judge in Old Bailey decides that the husband's physical presence is sufficient evidence of coercion.
The severe logician wonders how far the principle can be applied. Once in a while a wife kills a husband, and a drama in which his "physical presence" is absolutely essential. Must she be held to have been coerced by him? Has he really committed suicide by proxy? Did King Canute mean that—BROOKLYN DAILY EAGLE (Ind. Dem.)

THE THIRTEENTH MOVEMENT
After several thousand more or less satisfactory renditions of the, er, I blush to say, Brady Symphony, it appears that there is just one discordant note in the whole performance. A great many players have written in to ask how in blazes, or words to that effect, a fellow can clasp his hands behind his neck, as in the fifth movement, and then swing far over and down and touch the floor behind his heels. Well, I've tried it several times myself to make sure, and I conclude it can't be done. You simply have to let go of your neck and reach down and touch the floor with your hands in defiance of the printed score. In fact, in all the movements of this piece, the amateur may as well learn right at the beginning, no care whatever should be taken of the neck.
The discord being eliminated, let us essay the thirteenth movement. In this movement the player assumes the same position as in No. 11, that is to say, lying supine, with the hands—dear me, I detect another discord. The hands in No. 11 movement were clasped behind the neck, weren't they. I must have been worried about my neck when I plotted out No. 11. Well, no matter, let go of your neck—it will be safe enough in the thirteenth movement. Let go. Put the hands on the floor beside the hips. Now without lifting the feet from the floor, grin, grit your teeth, draw in a long deep breath and at the same time pull your body up to the sitting position, as in No. 11, but keep right on, flexing the body down as far as you can on the thighs, spreading the knees wide, big toe chin won't bump, and without wasting any time there come right back up again, now breathing out, and back to the starting position.
This is a humdinger. The first few times the amateur or sedentary individual attempts No. 13 movement he will find himself quickly tired, if he can do it at all. Often it is impossible for one who has physically neglected himself to do the thirteenth movement without having some weight or restraint upon his feet to keep them on the floor. But with regular daily practice you will learn, and in a reasonable time you will be able to execute the thirteenth movement from five to 20 times every time you play the symphony.
It is well to be modest at first and not attempt too much. This movement brings into play muscles which the dignified adult seldom uses. And a lame belly is very discouraging—I say belly because that is the only proper word in the English language signifying the anterior abdominal wall.
When you shall have acquired such physical condition, by means of these exercises, that you can do the thirteenth movement as much as 15 times regularly along with the rest of the better metabolism symphony, with nothing but a bracing, uplifting, delightful after effect, you may reasonably jolly yourself that you are fairly fit.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Physiology Straying Far Afield
A little school girl wrote me a delightful letter in the course of which she said that her class in physiology discussing the question of pimples wished to know why pimples come only on the face of boys and girls from 10 to 16 years of age, etc., and in reply I observed that they don't and then I remarked that such a question scarcely fell under the head of physiology anyway.
Now comes the little girl's teacher protesting that my reply was unfair.
Maybe physiology has been considerably revised and enlarged since I went to school, but I cannot believe it has been extended to include pathology too.
The trouble with the "physiology" taught in the common schools is that it is a little dash of this and that and almost everything imaginable save only the functions of the human body. For example what does the boy or girl graduating from school know about himself or herself? Nothing to speak of. The schools have not yet progressed far enough to teach the pupil to know himself—it isn't nice, as an ignorant taxpayer can tell you, and so it isn't done.
School "physiology" would be a fine joke were it not for the regrettable waste of time it causes so many little boys and girls and the mass of useless and misleading information it temporarily clutters their brains with.
Tuberculosis in Milk
Do tuberculosis germs pass from cows in their milk? Should all milk be boiled before drinking?—(W. G. T.)
Answer—If the cow has tuberculosis as a large number do, the fact may be associated by the tuberculosis germ. A tuberculous cow is likely to eliminate tubercle bacilli in the milk. Milk from cows or herds that have not been tuberculin tested should be boiled five minutes or else pasteurized (heated up to 140 degrees F., held at that temperature 20 minutes then cooled). This, according to most authorities is certain to destroy tubercle bacilli and other disease germs, the Metchnikoff said it could not be wholly depended on to do so and advised boiling five minutes instead. Of course certified milk is pure and requires no such treatment.

Daily Editorial Digest
(Title Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinions

GERMANY AND THE NEW DEMANDS
That the United States is very vitally concerned in the final attitude assumed by Germany toward the allied demands is made very plain by most of the editorial comment on the subject.
"There is no longer a deep and sharp cleavage between the interest of Europe and America," points out the PITTSBURGH LEADER (Prog. Rep.), "and when the Chancellor of Germany cuts a new taxation scheme of the allied nations impossible and presumptuous, we, in America, are bound to listen. He may be right, if wrong, it is our job to show him. If right, it is our job to help make adjustments. The main thing to keep in mind is that whatever concerns Europe concerns us, perhaps more."
And in the opinion of the NEW YORK WORLD (Ind. Dem.), "the time has gone by when there is anything to be gained by the Germans promising what they cannot do in order to give the French and British ministers a chance to get by with their respective parliaments. The refusal by Chancellor Wirth clears the air and opens the way for a more honest dealing with the facts." Going even farther the NEW YORK GLOBE (Ind. Dem.) believes that the allies have got to restore Germany to the status of a free nation with just debts that she ought to pay," and points out that "the road of coercion leads toward economic anarchy and a frustration of all measures of general European reconstruction."
That the plan contains a needed method whereby Germany's actual resources may be determined is the opinion of the WASHINGTON STAR (Ind.) which believes that "with an allied commission of guarantees sitting in Berlin to supervise the financial affairs, not only of the German government, but of German industry, there ought to be an early end to doubt as to what sum it is possible for Germany to pay." The NEW YORK TIMES (Ind. Dem.) also believes that "further study of the German position would be profitable," and is convinced that "penalties will produce more moral satisfaction than practical reparation for France and should be only a desperate last resort." And the social-abolitionist NEW YORK CALL declares that "what the allies are asking is that the German workers shall produce more as plunder and accept less in real wages." It believes that the allied attitude, if persisted in, "may even set in motion the class war. In that event the European lid may blow off and the victors will have a still more grave 'problem' to face."
"To Germany the allies granted the right to live as a separate government only under certain conditions," the LYNCHBURG, VA., NEWS (Dem.) suggests, "and that under the conditions the Versailles treaty in order to insure obedience to the provisions of the treaty certain safeguards were imposed. Therefore, the reparations commission is proceeding under the very terms of a pact which Germany signed when it suggests as a possible alternative the employment of a form of authority specifically stated therein." The Mobile, Ala., REGISTER (Dem.) also considers the alternative proposal of the commission to Germany's advantage. "Honestly carried out," the paper says, "it should enable Germany to meet its war obligations and get on its feet industrially, and thus indirectly benefit the whole world." Likewise the PHILADELPHIA PUBLIC LEDGER (Ind.) criticizes the defiant attitude of Chancellor Wirth and suggests that "the new note of arrogance and defiance will not help. The echoes of the guns in Flanders, in Picardy and the Champagne still throb against the ear drums of the world."
Establishment of a committee of control at Berlin would be difficult, in the opinion of the SPRINGFIELD, Mass., REPUBLICAN (Ind.), which says: "If the task of bettering Germany's financial condition is turned over to the allies the committee of control at Berlin will find its task no sinecure." The CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER (Ind. Dem.) suggests that "a policy as regards reparations that permitted Germany to forget the destruction and suffering her desire for power had wrought would be as indefensible as one that imposed upon her for a generations a burden that made her industrial progress impossible. But whether the burdens of Chancellor Wirth can be accepted at their face value is puzzling to the NEWARK, N. J., NEWS (Ind.), which considers the "safest course is to take it at its worst possible meaning and assure that German Democracy is none too stable." In this case it is urged that "if the Geneva conference is not broad enough to take Germany in with safety it will be wise to broaden the conference than to shut Germany out." The Seattle, Wash., TIMES (Ind. Rep.) considers the proposition submitted to Germany a "business like one" which will show exactly what "Germany's financial condition is." The directly opposite view is held by the CHICAGO TRIBUNE (Ind. Rep.) which characterizes the latest proposal as "a French policy of hamstringing Germany which does not protect France. France cannot disarm her enemies forever by it but she can drive away her friends."
That the allies have "not demanded conditions that Germany cannot fulfill," is the opinion of the Indianapolis STAR (Rep.), in pointing out that the estimates of the proposed German budget show "the need for the strictest economy." And the Baltimore NEWS (Rep.) suggests that the reparations commission ought to be able to assign a capital value to Germany's resources. "Until it does so," says the paper, "there will be no solution of the European question." In the protest of the German chancellor, however, the CHICAGO POST (Rep.) sees a statement which made for home consumption. It suggests that "perhaps in another war, he, or some

In Franklin's Day
BY DR. WM. E. BARTON
Let us not too hastily assume that any of the problems of life are modern. For instance, there is church attendance and the eighteenth amendment.
Read this extract from the Autobiography of Benjamin Franklin:
"We had for our chaplain a zealous Presbyterian minister, Mr. Beatty, who complained to me that the men did not generally attend his prayers and exhortations. When they enlisted they were promised, besides pay and provisions, a gill of rum a day, which was punctually served to them, half in the morning and the other half in the evening; and I observed they were very punctual in attendance to receive it."
"Upon which I said to Mr. Beatty, 'It is perhaps below the dignity of your profession to act as steward of the rum, but if you were to deal it out, as they only after prayers, you would have them all about you.'"
"He liked the thought, undertook the office, and with the help of a few hands to measure out the liquor, executed it to satisfaction; and never were prayers more punctually attended; so that I thought this meth-

Q. Does the Constitution provide for the forming of a Cabinet? F. L. B.
A. The Constitution of the United States made no provision for the creation of executive departments, vesting the sole executive power in the President. These departments were created by successive acts of Congress, under authority conferred by the Constitution in Art. I, Sec. 8, par. 18. The Departments of State, then called Foreign Affairs, Treasury and War were established by the first session of the First Congress. The Secretaries of these, together with the Attorney General, who was then a part of the judicial establishment, formed the first President's Cabinet.

Q. Are coal mines warmer in winter and cooler in summer? E. J.
A. The Bureau of Mines says that coal mines are not warmer in winter and colder in summer. The heat of the earth increases one degree for every 100 feet of depth. Coal mines are not usually very deep and therefore not affected to any great extent by the heat of the earth. The temperature of the mine depends upon the location and the depth.

A. Colorado, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Ohio, Oklahoma, North Dakota, West Virginia, Louisiana and Florida do not accept certificates granted in other states. Many of these, however, issue other certificates on the basis of recognized credentials, provided the requirements are met. Connecticut is the only state which issues certificates wholly on the basis of examination and does not accept credits from institutions either within or without the state.

Q. Has a British Ambassador been handed his passport in this country in the last 50 years? D. H.

A. Sir Lionel Sackville-West was handed his passports in 1888. At that time Britain's representative was a Minister, not an Ambassador. The Minister wrote home that Cleveland's re-election would be advantageous to England, whereupon President Cleveland felt it necessary to hand Sir Lionel his passports.

Q. When was gas first used in the White House? E. O. D.
A. Gas was introduced into the White House December 23th, 1848, during the administration of President Polk.

Q. When were the first bodies of American soldiers of the world war brought back to this country? A. F. D.

SERENADE SIGNALS RETURN OF SINGERS

With plenty of music left with which to serenade the coeds of the college, the Lawrence College Glee club arrived home on the 11:37 train from Oshkosh and went almost at once to the dormitories. The men returned from one of the most successful trips in years. Everywhere they were well received and splendid press comments speak for the impression which they made artistically.

It was midnight, with an electric storm threatening when music wakened one maiden after another. The girls hopped out of bed and ran to the vantage points for serenades. Great applause came from the girls when they realized that the glee club had returned from its wanderings, and had come to sing them out of their slumbers.

Mrs. Henry Boehler of Hortonville and her sister, Mrs. Hoier of Greenville, have returned to their homes after attending the funeral of Mathias Kitzinger.

CATLIN POPULAR CANDIDATE FOR STATE ATTORNEY

Appleton Man is Favored for Nomination for State
Office

Almost every day there is a new indication that Attorney Mark S. Catlin, Outagamie county representative in the assembly, will be candidate for Republican nomination for attorney general in the primary election next September. Mr. Catlin has never definitely announced that he will be a candidate but said he would accept a place on the primary ballot if the Committee of Forty-four, which is a guiding body for Republicans opposed to the present state administration, decided that he should become a candidate.

There was considerable speculation for a time over the supposed candidacy of Senator George Skogmo for the office but there is very little probability that Mr. Skogmo will be seriously considered. He is secretary of the Committee of Forty-four and it is said his acceptance of that position almost automatically shut him out of any contest for political office. Deputy Attorney General John P. Baker also has been mentioned for the place but legislators and leaders generally believe Catlin is the strongest man and most likely to defeat the administration candidate for the nomination. It is more than likely that Herman Ekern, formerly insurance commissioner, will be the candidate of the Blaine-LaFollette faction. He is regarded as the strongest man on the administration ticket and it is believed he has been put in the race to groom him to oppose Senator Lenroot for the United States senate in four years.

MORGAN NOT CERTAIN

It is not at all certain that Attorney General William J. Morgan will head the Committee of Forty-four ticket. Mr. Morgan, it is known, would like to be governor and will accept the committee's nomination if it is given to him. He is regarded as a strong man with a good chance of beating Blaine for the nomination. He has made some enemies as attorney general, however, and this may be used against him. It is said there is considerable sentiment in the state for George McKerron of Waukesha, president of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau federation, to be the committee's candidate. He has a large following and is popular with the farmers.

There are many politicians who believe that Roy Wilcox is the logical man to beat Blaine this year. They recall how close Wilcox ran to Blaine two years ago and said that if the Republican ticket had not been split in so many parts Wilcox would have received the nomination. They argue now that if the fight is between Blaine and Wilcox the latter will receive the united conservative support and his nomination is assured.

Republicans of the conservative faction believe the decisive defeat which Gov. Blaine suffered in the special session of the legislature is an indication of his waning strength. The special session gave both factions a campaign issue and indicated the fight next fall will be more bitter than two years ago. LaFollette is showing his hand in every activity of the administration, it is said, and the campaign will be fought largely on the issue of his domination of Wisconsin politics.

List in February Association
Testing

Twenty-six cows passed the 40-pound mark for butterfat production during February in the Greenville Cow Testing association according to the official report of C. V. Schmidt, tester.

Fred C. Kaphingst's herd again topped the list with an average for each of 14 grade and purebred Holsteins of 1,060 pounds of milk and 43.2 pounds of butterfat. His champion cow, Nigger, remained in the 70-pound class, giving 1,658 pounds of milk yielding 72.9 pounds of butterfat.

Henry Manteufel's herd of 11 grade and purebred Holsteins ranked second highest, averaging 1,005 pounds of milk and 35.1 pounds of butterfat.

A smashing big story of the west with its primitive strength and its sense of right is revealed in "Three Word Brand" which is current at Fischer's Appleton with the favorite delineator of plains types, Wilham S. Hart, in the stellar role. Mr. Hart has a splendid part which he enacts with all the vivid histrionism of which he is master. A very capable company is in support. A special atmospheric prologue adds to the effectiveness of the presentation and introduces Bill Pruitt, the Cowboy Curuso, in new song hits.

"Are Waitresses Safe" is an amusing Mack Sennett comedy introducing Louise Frizenda and other favorite players. Fischer's International News visualizes events of interest.

OBJECT TO LATENESS OF HORTONVILLE TRAIN

Residents of Larsen and Allenville, Winnebago co. have raised a protest against the service on the Oshkosh-Hortonville branch of the Chicago and Northwestern railway and are planning to call a meeting at which resolutions will be adopted making formal complaint. It is said the train constantly is far behind schedule.

Winnebago County Farm Bureau federation has started action to improve the service. It is said the train leaving Hortonville and reaching Oshkosh at 12:10 is late more frequently than is consistent with good service. Often the train has reached Oshkosh at 2 o'clock, too late to enable farmers to do their shopping and make the return trip at 5:25.

Local Church Is Fifth In Race For Attendance

The Presbyterian attendance contest, in which Appleton, DePere, Green Bay, Oconto, Shawano and Stratford contested for honors, came to a close last Sunday after 13 weeks. These six churches competed in the grand totals, adding percentages received in Sunday school and morning and evening preaching services. Shawano won first place, Grace church, Green Bay, second, Stratford, third, Oconto sixth.

In the Sunday school section of the contest the ranking was in the following order: Stratford first, Oconto, second; Grace, Green Bay, third; Shawano, fourth; Appleton, fifth; DePere sixth; Green Bay first seventh; Robinsonville eighth; Wequico ninth. In the morning preaching services: Shawano first; Stratford second; Green Bay, Grace, third; Appleton, fourth; DePere fifth; Wequico, sixth; Oconto seventh; Robinsonville, eighth. ## RUM HOUNDS LEAD IN MARCH ARRESTS

Men that needed something more effective than sulphur and molasses for a spring tonic usurped most of the space on the police blotter during the month of March. The figures added by George T. Prim, chief of police, showed that eight out of sixteen arrests during that period were for drunkenness and one for having moonshine in his possession.

Four persons had to answer for disorderly conduct, two for lewd behavior and one for obtaining money under false pretenses.

Averaging about four trips a day, the Black Maria made 112 trips within the month, traveling 461 miles. The ambulance was out seven times.

Shawano first; DePere, second; Grace Green Bay, third; Appleton fourth; Oconto sixth.

U. S. Would End Flood Fight By Taking Dams From Two Upper Rivers

Commerce is Too Light to Require Improvements Any Longer — Would Substitute Drainage Systems to Keep Farms Above Water.

Removal of all dams, locks and other improvements on the upper Fox river and on the Wolf river from New London to Fremont is proposed by engineers of the war department as a means of relief to farmers from inundation of land each spring by high water.

This is the way in which the government plan to answer the protest of the Association for Relief of High Water, and to end a warfare of decades between opposed interests in these two valleys.

Lack of commerce warrants the removal of improvements on the upper waterways, engineers say in their report submitted to Secretary of War Baker. The cost of removal is estimated at $150,000. Drainage systems with levees and dikes would be substituted to take care of the flood waters. Dismantling would include the canal at Portage between the Fox and Wisconsin rivers.

SUGGEST RESERVOIR—Their report further recommends "an increased use of Lake Winnebago as a storage reservoir by permitting water to be drawn down to two feet below Menasha dam during navigation season and by deepening channels a corresponding amount, in order to harmonize to a greater degree the interests of navigation, water power and land reclamation."

The cost of this latter improvement is estimated at $750,000 if present locks, etc., are maintained on the upper river, or $455,000 if they are abandoned as recommended, but the engineers propose that no appropriations for this purpose be made "until water power interests on the lower Fox river are prepared to cooperate to the extent of paying a fair value for the benefits received."

EXTENT OF WORK—Present improvements on the upper Fox include seven timber dams, nine locks and 6.5 miles of canals. Work on the Wolf has been confined to dredging and snagging the river at frequent intervals.

Already over $4,000,000 has been expended for building and maintenance and over $2,000,000 for operation and care of these locks and dams.

It is with the idea of eliminating these high costs of operation and maintenance, which the engineers indicate, are not justified by the small amount of traffic on these portions of the two rivers, that removal of the improvements is advised.

SOME HISTORY—The first attempt of the United States to make navigable this section of the old Indian and explorers' canoe route from the Great Lakes to the Mississippi was an act of congress in 1836 providing for a grant of land to the state of Wisconsin. The state was to improve the Fox and Wisconsin rivers and provide at Portage a canal between them. In 1848 the state placed the work in charge of the board of public works and in 1849 a contract was let for construction of the canal.

In 1885 further development was vested in the Fox and Wisconsin improvement company and in 1886 the entire improvement work was sold to the Green Bay and Mississippi Canal company. This company remained in charge of it until 1872, when it was sold to the United States government for $145,000, the company retaining water power rights.

WISCONSIN RIVER—The Wisconsin river improvement was abandoned in 1887, on recommendation of rivers and harbors engineers. Nearly $600,000 had been spent on dikes and wing dams up to that time. The present report, however, indicated that power dams being built on that river may, in time, sufficiently control the flow of water to make navigation practicable.

A project was before congress to deepen and widen the Fox river for practically its entire length. It was on the feasibility of this project that the engineers were asked to report. The bill proposed cutting out the channel from DePere, near the mouth to Montello, a distance of 125 miles, to a depth of 6 feet, and from Montello to Portage 21 miles, to a depth of 4 feet.

The Wolf river would be dredged to a depth of 4 feet. This would mean deepening the channel 1 foot or more except in the 74 miles of the channel below Eureka, including Lake Winnebago.

VIEW OF ENGINEERS—Instead the engineers recommend that all effort to maintain navigation above Fremont on the Wolf and above Oniro on the Fox, be discontinued, and improvements removed. They have found that average traffic on the upper Fox is only about 1,000 tons and 4,000 tons on the Wolf below Fremont, as compared with 20,000 tons on Lake Winnebago and 200,000 on the lower Fox.

The district engineer claims that any traffic worthy of consideration on the upper Fox is an extremely remote possibility.

The proposal to allow drawing water for power purposes to 2 feet below the crest of the Menasha dam and deepening channels and harbors accordingly, would mean that considerably more water could be used to develop power and still leave plenty for navigation in the lower river. At present the power companies are required to maintain the water at the crest of the dam except for three months, when navigation is closed.

COMPANIES MUST PAY—The engineers propose, however, that this change be delayed until the companies concerned are willing to pay sufficient for the improvements to remove the burden of the cost from the government.

They also estimate that the land reclaimed by removal of dams in the upper Fox should be of considerable value, but advise postponing any action until reclamation has "advanced sufficiently in the opinion of the chief engineer of the war department of engineers to make the alterations of locks and dams necessary."

"An initial appropriation of $25,000 should be made," says the report, "on condition that if not used within 10 years, it shall be turned into the treasury of the United States."

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples Are Impurities Seeking An Outlet Through Skin Pores

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear, cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

Some pronounced it gall stones, some gastritis and some intestinal inflammation. I happened to read an ad of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and from the first dose my wife has steady improvement. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists."

18-FOOT SNAKE IS GIVEN TO MUSEUM

When students in the history department of Lawrence college start telling you stories of snakes 18 feet long which they have seen, do not place them at once in the class with those who tell fish stories. There is a snake that long in the history museum on the fourth floor of Main hall which was recently presented to Dr. J. B. McIlhenny by Mrs. Frances Tucker who is taking work in the history department. Mrs. Tucker has recently returned with her husband, Major A. H. Tucker, from the Philippines and the snake is one of the many things which she brought back with her. The skin has been tanned and is being mounted for the museum.

Some rare old prints by Currier and Ives bearing the date of 1862 showing scenes of civil war times have been given to the museum recently by Lester Emans. Besides many valuable old books, Dr. McIlhenny has also received a Scotch claymore and the donor is furnishing a complete history of the sword.

ELECT MANVILLE BOAT CLUB HEAD

C. S. Manville was elected commodore of Appleton Motor Boat club at its annual meeting at the clubhouse Thursday evening. Other officers elected were Edward Arent, vice commodore; Ray Schmidt, rear commodore; William Nye, fleet captain; Lester Balliet, secretary and treasurer; Nic Storm, John Hoffman and William Nye, trustees.

No action was taken concerning the purchase of several hundred feet of river frontage from Martin Glessman and Louis Krause and nothing will be done in this direction until the common council, to which it was offered, acts.

Quite a number of boat houses on city property, which were ordered removed, are being dismantled.

Also Stops All Itching of Eczema Almost Immediately

"I felt it my duty to write you a letter of thanks for your wonderful Peterson's Ointment. I had a running sore on my left leg for one year. I began to use Peterson's Ointment three weeks ago and now it is healed."
—A. C. Gilbrath, 703 Reed Street, Erie, Pa.

I'd rather get a letter like that, says Peterson of Buffalo, than have John D. Rockefeller give me a thousand dollars. It does me a lot of good to be able to be of use to my fellow man. For years I have been selling through druggists a large box of PETERSON'S OINTMENT for 35 cents. The healing power in this ointment is marvelous. Eczema goes in a few days. Old sores heal up like magic; piles that other remedies do not seem to even relieve are speedily conquered. It stops chafing in five minutes and for scalds and burns it is simply wonderful. Newell, Gustave Tesch. Sixth ward, Grover Smith and George Hoh. W. F. Meyer is assigned to look after members ill at Menasha, and R. G. Zuchlike has in charge others outside of Appleton. Each member of the lodge is supposed to communicate with the ward men when they hear of a member being sick.

NEW ANNUITY PLAN IS EXPLAINED HERE

Annuity and life insurance for college professors was explained by a member of the Carnegie Foundation to the Lawrence professors on Wednesday. Because the Carnegie Foundation takes care of the expenses of officers, offices and overhead expenses, this insurance is offered to the teachers at actual risk rate.

Most of the Lawrence professors are still under the old system of annuity through which they receive a certain sum upon their retiring from the profession. It was in 1915 that the foundation found this system to be too expensive to carry and a new plan was instituted. If a professor under the new system, and this system includes all men and women who went into teaching in colleges after 1915, wishes to take out an annuity for $10,000 at the age of 65 years, he pays half of the expense and his college pays the remainder.

LET PERSONALITY
DETERMINE KIND
OF YOUR PERFUMEScent Expert Says Careful Study Should Be Made in Selection

Los Angeles—One drop of perfume may socially make or break a woman. Dr. William D. Duane, celebrated odor chemist, who has prescribed perfumes for royalty and society leaders on two continents, says so.

For 30 years Dr. Duane has followed his sensitive nose into many lands in quest of rare essences and has translated them into ravishing bouquets for the elite in his laboratories.

"Woman," says he, "from ancient times has been borrowing the gift of flowers for her toilet, but it is surprising how little she has learned about this fine art."

"What a drop of perfume may do for her depends upon how she selects it with reference to her personality."

"By constant reiteration of song, pictures and folk tales, certain types of women have become almost instinctively associated with a floral counterpart. They have the fancied characteristics of the rose, the lily or the orchid. Wherefore the violet girl subtly affronts the nose if she insists upon smelling like a Chinese lily, or the red rose matron like a magnolia."

"Merely to smell sweet, or to exhale costly essences indiscriminately, is to miss all the deepest implications of perfumery which carries a most powerful appeal to emotion and intellect."

"I'll wager that many a girl by her haphazard use of scent has repelled the very kind of friends she most seeks to court."

"On the other hand, many a girl of refined instinct has attracted her future husband from a crowd of strangers by a message to his nose."

In prescribing personality perfumes, Dr. Duane first makes a careful study of his patron's striking characteristics, temperament, color and "aura." Then he recommends the perfume of the flower they are most like.

Among celebrities for whom he has provided individual scents are Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, orchid; Mrs. Lyman Gage, jasmine; former Queen Elizabeth of Spain, bouquet; and Queen of Belgium, bouquet.

Adventures Of
The Twins

"The Fat Old Pillow"

Pillows of all sizes and shapes were pinned to a clothesline between the maple trees in the yard. It was housewifery time and the whole family of them was getting a sunning. The granddaddy of all the pillows, a big fat bolster, was doubled over the line right on his stomach, as though he had a tremendous pain from overstuffing, like kiddies get on holidays.

It seemed to add to his misery, when the maid came out, and started to beat him with a stout cane. He swelled up still more, with indignation, probably, until he was in a fair way to burst. In fact, he was bursting. A tiny rip appeared in one of his sides which grew to quite a size and in a twinkling several fluffy feathers had crowded out and fluted away over the tree tops up into the sky.

"Oh, look," cried Nancy. "They're sailing straight into the sun!"

But as soon as she had said it, she remembered—and Nick remembered, too—what Buskins had said on their return from their last adventure. Buskins had mentioned a country in the sky which he called "The Land of Rainaway Feathers."

"Let's go over to the orchard," said Nick.

"Come on," said Nancy.

Awake they ran to the apple tree which had the funny little old wood on house tucked away in its boughs. The "Tree looked around in the grass with their sharp eyes to see if the Magical Mushroom had left the Green Shoes for them. But nary a thing did they find but a few brown, white petals blown down by the wind from the blossom laden branches.

"We'll have to climb," said Nancy. "No wishing shoes today!"

"Shucks," said Nick, "the house won't move. I just know, when we've only ordinary shoes on. But let's try, anyway."

Up they scrambled.

LEARN A WORD
EVERY DAY

Today's word is INCITE.
It's pronounced—in-site, with accent on the last syllable.
It means—to stir up, to urge on, to spur on, to rouse, to instigate, to prompt.
It comes from—Latin—"incitare," to rouse.
Companion words—incitant, incitation, incitement.
It's used like this—"Gandhi was jailed because he was accused of inciting the people of India to rebel."

ONION JUICE
To extract juice from an onion cut a slice from root end of onion, draw back the skin, and press onion on a coarse grater, working with a silver spoon.

EDITH KING FINDS HOT WATER AID TO BEAUTY

The Post-Crescent asked several of the country's leading beauties how they keep beautiful. Following is what Edith King gave as her recipe for beauty. Others will tell their beauty secrets in stories to follow.

BY EDITH KING
Leading Woman in "Thank You" at the Longacre Theatre, New York

Hot water, inside and out! If there's anything at all that will keep a skin looking all glossy and soft and ovelly it is plenty of hot water to drink and plenty of warm water to wash it with!

I've watched it with so many girls, that I've followed the trick myself. Haven't a bit of use for this greasy cold cream way of cleaning skin! Of course, must have cold cream to protect the skin and I do use it to help in the removal of paint after a performance, but when it comes to real soil—nothing in all the world like soap and warm water!

SAME REGARD FOR HAIR
A skin which doesn't get its warm water bath must surely become thick and saggy looking instead of transparent and exquisite as skin really should be.

I have the same theory in regard to hair—wash it as often as it needs it—which in most cases, mine in particular, is once every two weeks.

Tea and coffee I avoid. They tend to make one nervous and jangling nerves mean—wrinkles! A disturbed condition of the mind will spoil the nicest kind of a skin—beauty isn't any matter of magic! Can't eat too many sweets—mean a blotchy skin, pimples perhaps! And a shiny nose!

Fried goods I almost never eat—something else that isn't good for the skin or the digestion. Fruits are really the thing I eat the most of.

Two meals a day are quite enough for the average person.

STRONG FOR WALKING
And I don't believe in dawdling! Spoil the finest figure and most beautiful skin the world. Keep eternally doing, accomplishing while you're up and about, and then when you rest rest every bit of the way. Don't make either the resting or the working or the playing half way.

Walking is the only exercise I do—that because I have time for nothing else.

And I think for the busy girl who would keep in trim nothing is better than brisk walking in the open air.

EDITH KING

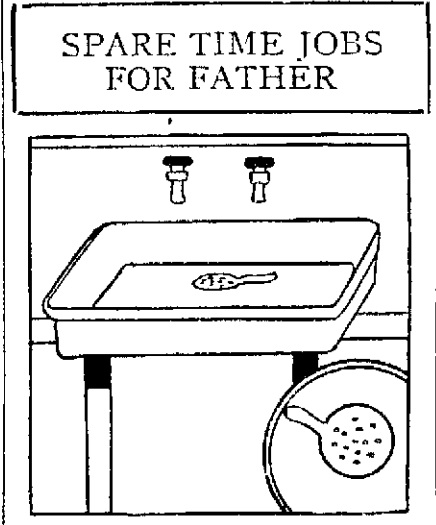

Household
Hints

CARE OF RANGE
After broiling or frying, if any fat is spattered on your range, wipe surface at once with a newspaper.

OIL CLOTH
Wash oilcloth with warm water and milk. Use one cupful of skim milk to one gallon of water. Wipe dry with a clean cloth.

GLASSES
Drinking glasses, which have been used for milk should be first rinsed in cold water before washing in hot.

SPARE TIME JOBS FOR FATHER

It isn't a pleasant job to clean refuse out of the sink with your hands. Make a small tin stopper that will let water run through but will hold the refuse. This can be made by punching holes in the tin piece. Then simply shovel out the refuse.

Cheaper Cuts Of Meat

If the average housekeeper would learn to use the cheaper cuts of meat in appetizing and tasty ways she could do much toward reducing the cost of high living.

The shoulder of lamb makes a perfectly good roast and is never as expensive as the leg of lamb. The breast shank and neck can be made into very palatable and nourishing dishes that will take the place of the expensive chops on ordinary occasions.

ROAST SHOULDER OF LAMB
A shoulder of lamb 2 slices of bacon, 2 cups stock, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, 2 medium sized onions, 2 carrots, 1 small turnip, 6 peppercorns, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 cup canned tomato juice.

Remove bone from shoulder. Cover bone with cold water, about three cupfuls and bring slowly to the boil. Let simmer two hours.

Wipe meat with a damp cloth and trim off the thin tissue-like covering. Season with salt and pepper, roll tightly and tie.

Cut the bacon in narrow match like strips and insert in the meat. Slice vegetables and put in bottom of casserole. Dot with butter and add meat.

Cover closely and put in a hot oven for 20 minutes. Add parsley and peppercorns. Turn over two cups stock, cover closely and roast in a slow oven for two and one-half hours.

Take out meat and remove strings. Strain stock. There should be one and one-half cups. Melt two table spoons butter in sauce pan, stir in flour and stir over the fire until the flour is brown.

Add stock slowly, stirring constantly. Then add one-half cup canned tomato juice. Serve in a gravy boat as a sauce for the meat.

RAGOUT OF LAMB
Two pounds neck of lamb, 1 cup boiling stock, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 onion, 1 carrot, 1 strip celery, sprig parsley, thyme and bay leaf, vols 2 eggs, 1/2 cup cooked spinach, 1/2 lemon, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper.

Trim meat. Put into cold water, bring slowly to the boiling point. Drain and plunge into cold salt water, let stand five minutes. Drain and dry between towels. Cut into two inch squares.

Melt butter in sauce pan, add sheep vegetable and simmer with out browning for 15 minutes. Sift in flour, stirring constantly and slowly, add boiling stock. Add parsley, thyme and bay leaf. Cook for ten minutes, add one egg, beat well and add the ragout. Cook for five minutes.

Heat spinach and rub through a fine sieve. Remove meat from ragout and strain into a bowl. Add each piece and when almost boiling add the egg yolks, beaten slightly with two tablespoons cream. Add lemon juice to spinach when rub through sieve.

Cook the sauce over a hot water until thick and smooth. Arrange meat on a hot platter and pour the hot sauce over it.

WOMAN ABANDONS CAREER OF LAW TO
RETURN TO HOMEMrs. Meder Decides Woman's Greatest Success is in Home LifeBY ROY GIBBONS
Chicago.—"The paths of glory lead but to the grave."

An attorney had used the quotation as the finishing touches to his argument.

To him the phrase was grandiloquent uttered for effect.

But there was one in the courtroom who heard, and was roused into a peculiar consciousness by the words. That person was Mrs. Leonora Z. Meder, also a lawyer.

Days after, the line kept repeating itself.

DECIDES ON HOME
And then she asked herself "Home or career?"

And the answer was simply "Home."

That's how Chicago has come to lose its foremost woman politician club leader and barrister.

"I'm going to chuck it all," says Mrs. Meder. "For the glamour of public life, women give up children, husband and home. Success? Fools' gold! I'm through. The end is the grave. Empty nothingness!"

And this decision she made after 30 years of intimate dealing with the public.

It came right on the eve when the women's Democratic organizations had announced her name as the candidate for judge at the coming elections.

Success is here!

She was the woman who had been public welfare commissioner, and the first of her sex to sit in an Illinois jury box.

Her practice at law was bringing in more than a handsome living.

But "No," she said.

"It's back to the home for mine. Not

To those who ask about dancing now I say, "If you can take Jesus with you to the dance hall keep on dancing. I never could find His footprints there."

that I have neglected the one I have nor the duties to my children—my own, the eight others, my sister's little orphans. I've tried to be a good mother, but I feel now that I might be a better one.

HOME WOMAN'S SPHERE
"After all, the old-fashioned mother was the best of her type. She might not have known much about interior decoration, but she sure knew how to take an apple pie."

"Home! What a wonderful word! That's woman's sphere. I waited 30 years to convince myself just what it meant, was down in the quintessence of the thing."

OUR FIRST YEAR

Chapter 2—Queer Ante-Nuptial Contract

By a Bride

WHAT'S ALREADY HAPPENED
It is the bride's first week as a housekeeper. With loving eagerness, tinged with a little anxiety, she prepares an elaborate dinner for her brand new husband. The phone rings. Instead of coming home he is going to the club to play chess with his friend Jim, who is in town between trains.

Now see here, Peggy Madison! You've no right to weep because your new husband is spending an evening at his chess club," said I to Mr. "You're known about his hobby as long as you've known him! Anyway if you hadn't, there's your own pet proposition! Can't you abide by it, when it's tested, without crying like a baby?"

I wiped my eyes and held up my chin. By simulating courage one can acquire it, I suppose. With head high, I faced the work-out of my little theory about freedom for married people.

In our engaged days, I had explained it to Jack, and he had agreed to it. Perhaps he hadn't agreed with much alacrity. More than once I had suspected that he was only humoring what he considered a whim of mine.

Personally, I considered my theory excellent although novel.

My mother was responsible for my radical notions about marriage. Poor dear little mother! Sometimes, in spite of her brave independence, I think she regrets divorcing my father. And I know she's homesick, now I am married.

Just if she hadn't divorced my dad, if I hadn't seen my parents' split apart after happy years together, I'd never have acquired my extremely advanced views about love and marriage.

Jack says ours is the oddest prenuptial contract ever made.

We had agreed to continue after marriage to be chums and pals, to be understanding and sympathetic companions, to be equal and independent friends, to retain our liberty as individuals.

We were to keep house together in the normal fashion. But each was to feel entitled to have his personal interests in people, places and things. Jack was to play chess when he wanted to. I was to go on with my acting at the Little Playhouse.

Jack called it a fair swap. For he was no more interested in acting than I in chess.

Neither was to interfere with the other's social preferences, whether for a man or a girl. Above all, neither was ever to be jealous.

Certainly ours was something new in a program for the married.

But it was all in accord with the modern girl's sophistication concerning the average unhappy marriage. I had seen great misery develop under my father's roof, had seen it end in a tragedy for my mother, if not for my father.

And Jack believed that if women are bound one way by the customs and traditions of marriage, men are hampered just as much in other ways. It should be different with us, we agreed.

We dared to give each other this vast liberty because we trusted each other implicitly. Jack was the soul of honor. If he said that he loved me, I could be sure that he did.

The phone rang again. I picked it up joyfully.

Doubtless Jack had changed his mind. Probably he was bringing Jim to dinner. And had passed up his old chess—for me!

I seized the phone with a quick, beating heart.

But the man who answered was not Jack.

A Little Mother's Tragedy

By VELMA MacINNES

Baby was only three weeks old when the young mother had to give him up and go to work. She put her baby to board on a farm with a kindly lady who loved babies. She spent every Sunday with him and forgot her weariness in the delight of holding him close to her heart.

But soon she noticed that baby was getting thin. His food did not agree with him. Little Mother knew that the milk was fresh because they had their own cows on the farm. But somehow he was smaller and more frail every time she saw him.

It was summer and the heat was terrible. Little Mother could hardly stand it in the city and was glad when Sunday's came and she could spend the day with her baby.

One day there came a hasty message—she must come at once, her baby was dying. Little Mother called a doctor and they drove like mad in a race with death, but they were too late and baby died. Why? Because of the dirt in the milk they had been feeding him.

The kindly lady on the farm was shocked when the Doctor told her it was the condition of the cows and the barns and the way the milk was handled that had caused the baby's death. He pointed out the filthy stables and barnyards, the cloths used to strain the milk and the battered milk pails.

The kindly lady shrank before the contempt and scorn in the Doctor's eyes—but she shrank even more from the look of hopelessness in the eyes of Little Mother.

The agony that Little Mother suffered no one knows. She couldn't understand why people should use dirty milk. She didn't know anything about dairies. She had never thought to inquire about milk for her baby. She thought the kindly lady knew all about babies—and now she was alone—baby's daddy was dead, had died before baby was born—Little Mother wishes she could join them.

The Doctor persuaded Little Mother to study the source of the milk supply that fed the thousands of babies in their city. He urged her to help him in the thousands of clinical cases that came to his attention. By doing this she was able to help a great many mothers who otherwise might have suffered as she had suffered. But sometimes as she guards the health of the babies of other mothers she feels a stab of pain for the ignorance that sent her baby "Home" so soon.

There are thousands of little mothers today, hoping and praying that their babies may be brought safely through their first two years, yet woefully ignorant of the essentials necessary to produce a safe healthful milk.

These mothers we can only remind that our milk is now "Contamo-Tested" and "Pasteurized" that between the cows in the field or stable and you, stands this silent, never-failing little watchman that assures a positively Pure, Wholesome Milk for you and yours.

Easter Week brings thoughts of Ham. When you are buying your Hams, take more care in their selection. If you are careless in buying, the meat you get often lacks the flavor and fat that is necessary to make the ham palatable and appealing to the appetite. When cooking ham, make certain that it is cooked evenly all over so that each portion of the meat has the same choice flavor.

BILLY EVANS PREDICTS HOW MAJORS WILL FINISH

Famous Baseball Critic Picks Yanks In American And Giants In National

Diamond Authority Declares Cleveland Will Take Second in Johnson Loop and St. Louis in Heydler Circuit.

BY BILLY EVANS

The team that beats out the New York Yankees in the American League is going to play in the 1922 world series.

The Yankees have pitching, batters, and pitching in the past has always decided pennants.

If given the opportunity to select four pitchers from the entire American League, it would be a difficult problem to get four better men than Mays, Hoyt, Jones and Bush.

Then there is Bob Shawkey, a great pitcher when he is right. Bob, usually a consistent performer, had his good and bad spots last season.

Some of the experts are inclined to think Bob is through. I don't share that opinion. Shawkey is a pitcher who has always taken care of himself and should win a fair share of ball games for the Yankees this summer.

YANKES STRONG COMBINATION. The Yankees were without a good southpaw last year. A left hander, who can deliver, is a very valuable man to any ball club. It looks as if Miller Huggins had acquired such a player in "Lefty" O'Doul.

O'Doul has been the property of the New York Americans for several years. Last season he was sent to the San Francisco club for further seasoning. With that club he won 25 games in the Coast League. He appears to have arrived.

Unless Judge Landis relents the Yankees are going to be minus much of their attack until May 20. That is the release date on the suspension meted out to Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel.

The Yankees are certain to miss the timely swats of these two great batters.

However, I am of the opinion that the excellent pitching the Yankees should get will tide them over without having the club suffer any great handicap.

The Yankees certainly figure to repeat.

THREE CLUBS DANGEROUS. The other three berths in the first division will in all probability be occupied by Cleveland, St. Louis and Washington.

Cleveland is an IF ball club in the American League pennant race.

If Manager Speaker is able to be in the game every day then one of the big ifs will have been removed.

Speaker's daily presence in the lineup means everything to the chances of the Indians. His leadership and playing strength is needed on the ball field.

If Jim Bagby and Walter Mills prove consistent winners the pitching problem will have been solved. Stanley Coveleske and George Uhle can be depended upon for good work.

The infield has been greatly strengthened by the addition of Stuffy McInnis. He is a great ball player.

The outfield will deliver. Steve O'Neil can be depended upon for brilliant work back of the bat.

If these things come true Cleveland should prove a strong contender. However, it lacks the power of the Yankees and doesn't figure to trim the New York aggregation.

PITCHING IS BIG PROBLEM. St. Louis and Washington loom up as the other two dangerous factors. Both of these teams will prove troublesome.

The addition of Beckenbach has made the Washington club. With him at short there is no better infield in the major league.

Here pitching is again the problem. Neither of these clubs appear to have enough pitching to topple the Yankees.

It wouldn't surprise me if the clubs came under the wire as they did last October—New York, Cleveland, St. Louis and Washington.

If the ifs are not overcome by Cleveland the Indians may not finish better than fourth.

Last year at this time I was positive the Athletics would finish better than eighth. Mack's aggregation crossed me. The team looks better than last year, but I doubt if it will escape the cellar.

Detroit to top the second division. Boston to finish six and Chicago seventh.

GIANTS IN NATIONAL. The New York Giants to repeat in the National League.

That seems to be the one best prediction as far as either of the major leagues is concerned.

The Giants were good enough to win in 1921. The club that McGraw will pilot this year is an even stronger aggregation.

That naturally makes the Giants loom up as a top heavy favorite in the National League baseball derby for 1922.

The Giants have one of the best infields ever gotten together. It was strong without Heinie Groh. The addition of that star third sacker rounds out the combination.

McGraw will get good catching from Snyder and Smith. The outfield will be strong. George Burns will be missed of course. Players like Burns are always missed. However, in Shinn and Cunningham, McGraw appears to have two youngsters able to fill the vacancy.

PIRATES WILL MISS SCHMIDT. Pittsburgh finished second last season, but right now it doesn't seem as if the Pirates have a chance to get so high a rating for the coming season.

The Pittsburgh club is going to miss Catcher Schmidt. It doesn't seem as if the club and the star catcher are going to be able to get together on the salary question.

GREEN BAY SIGNS FAST PERFORMERS

Manager Bobby Lynch Getting Together Fast Baseball Aggregation

Green Bay—Joe Muench, who played shortstop for Manitowoc last year, and Harry Kober, Sheboygan catcher and outfielder, are the newest additions to the ranks of the Green Bay ball club, according to Manager Bobby Lynch, who has announced the arrival of their signed contracts.

Muench was one of the infield stars of the Shore league last season. Although a big man, he is fast on his feet and can cover a mile of territory.

It was his brilliant work both in the field and with the willow that got Dick Crutcher, Shipbuilders' hurler, out of many a tight hole last season. Kober is a pretty handy man to have on any ball team. He caught a number of games for the Chalmers in 1921 and also saw service at first base and in the outfield. Kober is a pretty sweet hitter and is blessed with a lot of pep which is quite essential to a winning team.

O'Doul has been the property of the New York Americans for several years. Last season he was sent to the San Francisco club for further seasoning. With that club he won 25 games in the Coast League. He appears to have arrived.

Unless Judge Landis relents the Yankees are going to be minus much of their attack until May 20. That is the release date on the suspension meted out to Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel.

Headed For Ring Title

Fistic fans want to keep an eye on Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia. Loughran is a middleweight on the way up, and it looks now as if he were headed for Champion Johnny Wilson's scalp.

For two years this Philadelphia boy has been something of a sensation in his own city. Now his reputation is commencing to reach out over the country.

His latest triumph came in his recent bout with Bryan Downey of Columbus. The fight went the limit of eight rounds. The Philadelphia sport writers were unanimous in declaring that Loughran had all the best of it for six of the eight rounds.

Loughran has come through two other tough bouts with flying colors. The first of these was with Jimmy Darcy of California. Although Darcy dropped Loughran for the count of eight in the third round, the Philadelphia boy "came back" strong and, in the words of a noted fistic authority, "fought Darcy off his feet."

Loughran also had all the best of his match with Ray Kaiser who, it will be remembered, after losing the A. E. F. championship to Bob Martin, later scored a referee's decision over Martin in this country.

Tommy Loughran is 19 years old, is fighting now at 165 pounds, and may even beat out Lew Tendler in bringing a boxing championship to Philadelphia.

DUNDEE SIGNS TO BATTLE FOR TITLE

Junior Lightweight Will Get $15,000 for Fighting Pepper Martin

Toronto, Ont.—World's Junior Lightweight Champion Johnny Dundee signed on Wednesday to defend his title for the first time against Pepper Martin of Brooklyn at the Lexington theater on Thursday, April 13.

Dundee has been guaranteed $15,000 for his end of the receipts by Jimmy Kelley, Martin's manager, for the fifteen round contest. This has been the price Dundee has set for his challenges, and while Benny Valger and Danny Frush have talked about signing him this for his end, Pepper Martin was the first to lay his money on the line. The conditions of the match call for the men to weigh 130 pounds at 2 o'clock on the day of the contest.

This will make the first time that the Italian titleholder who holds the belt in this class will step into the ring to defend it.

"While every other champion is talking from $30,000 and upwards for matches," said Dundee, "I am willing to take just half this amount. This shows that I am willing to fight when they show me something to fight for. I don't want to die with the title and if Martin can win it I'll be the first to shake his hand. He's a rough, tough fellow and is more like Terry McGovern than any fighter of the day. It ought to be a great contest from every standpoint because of the difference in our styles and the fact that Martin can knock a fellow out with either hand."

Chicago—The Illinois coal operators on Thursday joined the Indiana, northern Ohio and Pittsburgh mine workers in declining an invitation to a joint conference of miners and operators, issued by Chairman John I. Nolan of the house labor committee.

The rejection of the invitation by the eastern operators, a telegram to Mr. Nolan said, had "nullified any possible prospect for the success of such a conference, since Pennsylvania and southern Ohio were originally excluded and Illinois was therefore left to play a lone hand."

Feeling that "a small portion of the operators can not warrantably undertake to negotiate with the national mining union officials for any scale which shall subsequently be taken as a basis for the entire country," the Illinois operators, in effect, turned down the house committee's proposal.

F. C. Hennold, secretary of the Illinois association, issued a statement giving comparative average earnings, which showed that "all Illinois miners received $1.10 an hour on Jan. 1 as against 85 cents for skilled railroad labor and 58 cents for 'all wage earners.'"

New Coats for the Easter Promenade—for $27

Many women are planning an economical Easter. Others who had made no definite plans will be quite unable to resist the charm of these lovely low priced coats. The prices do not tell half the story, for these coats are not only modestly priced but very NEW. They have just arrived from New York and are really the latest word in styles for Spring.

Smart Coats at Only $27.

"What can they be at such a price?" you say. Well they are just as smart as anyone could possibly wish. The materials are excellent and each coat is just as carefully made as more expensive ones. A very good blanket cloth in Spring weight is used, and the shades are the most favored ones of the season. The lines are new, there are patch pockets, the collars are modish—in fact the styles are perfect, and only $27.

Handsome Wraps $27. to $57.

These garments are really more than the word "coat" would imply. Many are so elaborate that they can be called nothing but wraps, and very graceful ones at that. Such materials as velour, shawshen, veldyne, genuine Camel's hair, point, Pandorra and cordona cloth are used. Some of the styles are plainly tailored, perhaps the trimming is braid. The more elaborate ones have tassels. Every shade that you have recognized as stylish this Spring is included. $27. to $58.
